ROYAL JELLY THE QUEEN OF PREVENTION

Royal jelly or Gelée royale is the only food the queen bee consumes throughout her lifecycle. However, she has the same genetics as other bees, and due to her royal jelly diet she is the only fertile female, with double the size and 15 times longer life span than other bees.

Royal jelly offers nutrients and antioxidants that may support immune system, hormonal balance and brain health. Thanks to rare beneficial compounds, 10-HDA, this substance may help improve cognition and fend off brain fog.

The quantity of 10 HDA is an important quality factor for royal jelly. Medex has standardized the quantity of HDA and thus provided guaranteed & transparent quality.

Medex guarantees HDA for the lifetime of its royal jelly products!

ROYAL JELLY FACTS

Royal jelly is the only food of the queen bee: She is the biggest, lives the longest and the only one fertile in the beehive - all due just to royal jelly!

Royal jelly is produced by nursing bees.

Only the queen bee feeds on royal jelly her entire life.

Although she has the same genetic base as the worker bee, she lives years (cca. 3 years) instead of weeks (worker bee cca. 6 weeks).

She mates just once and then for the rest of her life, lays 1,500 eggs a day.

The queen bee is double the size of the worker bee.

To sum up, the royal jelly has superpowers for sure!
